Although it was a comedy series, but it was one of the few Indian tv series which actually captured and showed all the major events that happened in India in the past and the overall social culture that is prevalent in India. Although there were so many other Indian shows that had great content, but I guess this one was the closest to the real India and all its issues that exists today.

Thursday, March 6, 2017 Do you know that you could always ask the local flower shop or a florist from mall for a flower arrangement? Is that something that they had to teach you? Well, not really because even the most of the florists and flower shop are not educated about the complete meaning of the flower arrangement. A flower arrangement is not just a bouquet of flowers that are placed on top of a table or in the vase. It is not just a bunch of pretty flowers. Rather, it is more than that. An arrangement can be made of a bouquet of roses or tulips, or a combination of all three. Roses, tulips and lilies are the commonly used flowers in an arrangement. The arrangement can be of small size, medium size, large size or gigantic size. They can also have color combinations such as pink and purple roses, pink and white roses, white and red roses, rose and tulip or just pure white roses. The arrangement can also be made of a single flower or with multiple flowers. They can also be a mix of natural or artificial flowers. There are other options in an arrangement such as vases, bowls, baskets and other container in which the arrangement can be placed. Wednesday, March 5, 2017 Today's generation is all about perfection. They are trying to achieve their goals on all fronts to become the best that they can. They always want to do things perfectly as they want to be the best that they can be. However, people are getting so caught up in these kinds of perfectionism and getting that perfect mood that they are missing the simple things in life and the fun things in life. While we are always trying to achieve perfect things in life, there are many other things that we can do perfectly even without any perfectionism. We can also do many things perfectly without any perfectionism. If you really think about it, people often achieve more perfectionism in one meal compared to doing all the things perfectly for the rest of the day. From the 82157476af
